About Us

At TPRS Glass, with over 30 years of deep expertise in glass craftsmanship, we proudly introduce Vistiq – a brand created to redefine how glass enhances living and working spaces.

Traditionally, glass has filled environments and delivered essential functional benefits, yet its unique potential to inspire and distinguish has often been overlooked. We set out to change that. Vistiq brings true individuality to every space through glass that is as expressive as it is elegant.

Featuring a meticulously curated collection of over 1,000 precision-crafted designs, Vistiq combines innovative artistry, superior quality, and thoughtful detail to transform ordinary surfaces into extraordinary statements.

Vistiq is for those who value distinction and refuse to settle for the commonplace – discerning individuals who celebrate excellence and seek to elevate every corner of their world.

Welcome to Vistiq: Where glass becomes unforgettable.

Technical product overview

Substrate

The essential base: high-quality 5 types of glasses serving as the foundation for all value additions, precision-selected for clarity, strength, and versatility

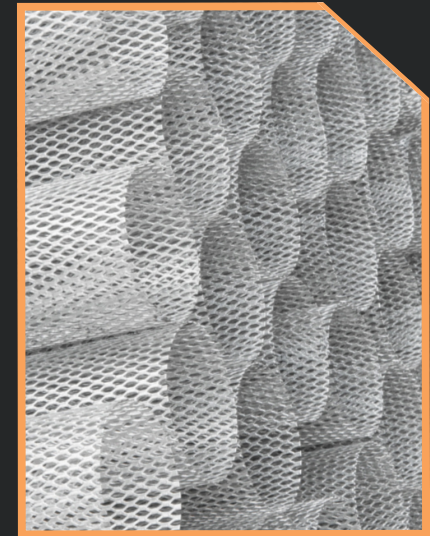

Printing

Advanced surface enhancement using 3 specialized inks tailored to specific applications, enabling vibrant, durable, and custom decorative effects on glass.

Lamination

Two glass panes bonded with high-performance materials and an interlayer sandwiched between, creating unique aesthetics, enhanced safety, and acoustic/light control benefits.

Interlayers

Distinctive interlayer options that transform ordinary glass by adding stunning visual appeal alongside practical benefits like privacy, UV protection, color transmission, and more.

1. Substrates

The essential base: high-quality 5 types of glasses serving as the foundation for all value additions, precision-selected for clarity, strength, and versatility.

Clear

Standard high-clarity float glass providing crystal-clear transparency as the perfect versatile base for all value additions.

Extra Clear

Ultra-low iron composition delivering exceptional color-neutral transparency and enhanced light transmission for premium, distortion-free applications.

Tinted

Subtly colored float glass (bronze, grey, green, blue etc.) that reduces glare, controls solar heat, and adds sophisticated tonal depth to spaces.

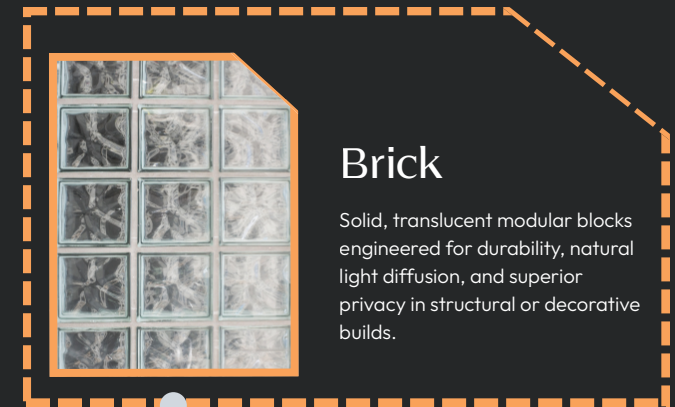

Pattern

Textured, rolled glass with built-in designs for natural privacy, diffused light, and inherent visual interest as a distinctive foundation.

Mirrors

High-reflectivity silvered glass creating stunning reflective surfaces, expanding spaces visually, and serving as an elegant, luminous base.

Brick

Solid, translucent modular blocks engineered for durability, natural light diffusion, and superior privacy in structural or decorative builds.

Application

Partitions

Decorative glass partitions create a balance between openness and privacy through textured surfaces, layered patterns, and elegant light diffusion.

Shutters

Designed for wardrobes and cabinets, decorative glass shutters introduce depth, sophistication, and a refined visual identity to storage spaces.

Wall Cladding

Textured and patterned glass wall cladding enhances interiors with reflective depth, subtle detailing, and a contemporary luxurious finish.

Skylight

Patterned decorative surfaces soften and diffuse incoming daylight, creating bright interiors with added visual character and ambience.

Table Tops

Decorative glass table tops bring together durability and design, adding texture, reflections, and a statement aesthetic to furniture applications.

Lustrous

Opulent gold, silver, and copper metallic finishes that add warmth, luxury, and timeless elegance. Perfect for creating focal points with radiant sophistication.

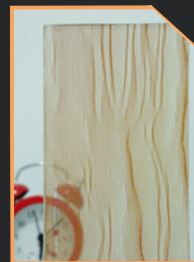

Copper Shadow Stripes

Product Code: i-LT1

The Quiet Drama of Copper.

Slender copper lines run through the glass, shifting in tone as daylight moves across them. In the morning they glow, by evening they deepen. It is the kind of detail that people notice without quite knowing why, and remember long after they have left the room.

Copper Waves

Product Code: i-LT2

A Surface That Breathes.

Long flowing lines move through the glass in copper tones, rising and falling like something unhurried. The pattern brings a quiet rhythm to tall partitions and full-height doors, making large surfaces feel considered rather than plain.

Soft Gold Weave

Product Code: v-LT3

Woven in Gold. Bathed in Light.

A fine lattice of golden threads held within glass, casting a warm, honeyed glow across the room. It offers just enough privacy without closing a space off. Soft, luminous, and quietly confident in every setting.

Kintsugi Gold

Product Code: i-LT4

Beauty Found in the Break.

Inspired by the Japanese art of mending with gold, this pattern carries scattered bursts of leaf across the glass. Each panel looks different from the next. That is the point.

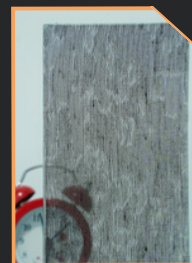

Silverline

Product Code: ii-LT11

Precision, Drawn in Silver.

Clean vertical lines run edge to edge, giving the glass a sharp, architectural quality. The silver tone keeps things light and airy while adding a visual discipline that suits focused, well-designed spaces.

Industrial Silk

Product Code: i-LT6

Strength with a Soft Hand.

Fine fabric pressed into glass, giving it a texture that is cool to look at but warm in feeling. It brings structure to large partitions without making a space feel closed or heavy.

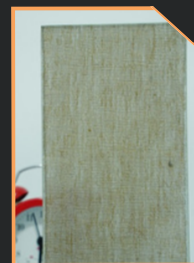

Champagne Loom

Product Code: i-LT7

The Glow Before the Evening Starts.

A dense weave of gold-toned threads that catches light and holds it. The surface has a richness that reads differently at every hour, full and warm in the afternoon, and softly luminous by night.

Sandstone Loom

Product Code: i-LT8

Quiet Texture. Lasting Presence.

The surface reads like woven fabric, earthy and grounded, with a warmth that settles a room rather than commands it. In professional spaces it adds depth without distraction. At home, it simply feels right.

Grand Entanglement

Product Code: i-LT7

A Story Told in Gold Thread.

Hundreds of fine lines cross and curl through the glass, like something that grew rather than was designed. It brings an organic richness to the space, one that feels layered and deeply considered without being loud about it.

Tiger Stripes

Product Code: i-LT10

Gold That Moves Like Light.

Fine vertical threads run through the glass in a rhythm that feels almost natural. The golden-green tone shifts with the hour, giving the room a living warmth that no paint or fabric can quite replicate.

Minimalist

Clean, elegant interlayers with subtle textures and understated beauty. Emphasizes serenity, light diffusion, and modern simplicity for refined, clutter-free environments.

Brass Checkedline

Product Code: iv-MT1

Structure with a Warm Tone.

A precise grid of brass-toned lines gives the glass a quiet geometry. It works well in spaces that take their design seriously, adding visual structure without feeling rigid or cold.

Subtle Sparkle Veil

Product Code: i-MT2

Almost Nothing. Almost Everything.

A softly textured surface that reveals its character through light and movement. Delicate reflections and fine linear detailing create a calm, understated elegance that blends effortlessly into contemporary interiors.

Forest Green

Product Code: vi-MT3

Grounded. Calm. Present.

A deep mesh tone that brings the feeling of being outdoors into an interior without trying too hard. It pairs naturally with dark frames, raw textures, and spaces that value stillness over spectacle.

Fretlines

Product Code: iv-MT4

Order in Its Simplest Form.

Fine vertical threads run the full height of the glass, creating a rhythm that is calm and deliberate. The pattern gives large partitions a sense of scale without visual noise, making it a natural choice for refined, minimal interiors.

Vivid Violet

Product Code: vi-MT5

A Considered Colour Choice.

Most rooms play it safe with glass. Vivid Violet does not. The soft purple tone brings personality to a partition without demanding attention, the kind of colour that makes a space feel curated rather than decorated.

Beach Blue

Product Code: vi-MT6

The Clarity of Open Water.

A soft aqua tint that keeps a room feeling open and uncluttered. It works especially well in spaces with abundant natural light, adding a coolness that feels clean and easy to be in.

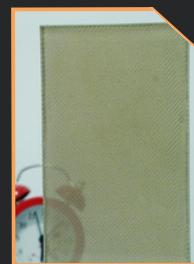

Yolk Yellow

Product Code: vi-MT7

Morning Light, Held in Glass.

A gentle amber tone that fills a room the way early sun does, gradually and without effort. It adds colour to a space without overpowering it, sitting comfortably alongside wood, stone, and neutral palettes.

Elegant Electrum

Product Code: i-MT8

Gold Without the Weight.

A pale, almost-golden tone that reads differently depending on the light around it. In bright spaces it feels airy, in dimmer ones it warms up. Understated in the best possible way.

Traditional

Inspired by rich global cultures – intricate patterns, heritage motifs, and timeless artistry that evoke history, storytelling, and cultural depth in every panel.

Rattan

Product Code: vi-TT1

Craft You Can See Through.

The circular openwork pattern of rattan translated into glass. It carries the warmth of natural material with the permanence of glass, a combination that feels at home in spaces layered with texture and heritage.

Indigo Chevron

Product Code: v-TT2

Depth in Every Direction.

A dense chevron pattern in deep indigo and slate tones fills the glass with movement and texture. It is bold enough to anchor a commercial space and refined enough to anchor a home. A pattern that holds its own in any setting.

Diamond Cinnamon

Product Code: i-TT3

Geometry from Another Era.

A repeating diamond lattice in warm cinnamon tones, drawn from the grille patterns of classic Indian woodwork. It gives a partition a strong visual identity without overpowering the room around it.

Sparkling Cascade

Product Code: i-TT4

Light Falling Slowly.

Fine threads run vertically through the glass, catching light as it moves through the day. The effect is gentle and unhurried, like something softly falling. It suits traditional rooms that carry a quiet grandeur.

Koorai Weave

Product Code: v-TT5

Drawn from the Koorai.

Inspired by the fine weave of South Indian textiles, this pattern brings a familiar warmth to the glass. It sits naturally in spaces that value craft, where the details are noticed and the materials are chosen with care.

Khadi Grid

Product Code: vi-TT6

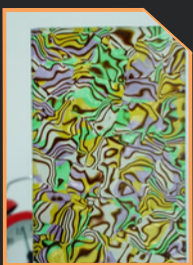

The Honesty of Handwoven.

A loose, irregular grid that carries the texture of hand-spun fabric. It is imperfect in the most intentional way, giving large glass surfaces a depth and character that polished finishes rarely achieve.

Artistic

Bold, innovative, and creatively expressive designs – pushing boundaries with contemporary forms, dynamic visuals, and imaginative artistry for standout, conversation-starting spaces.

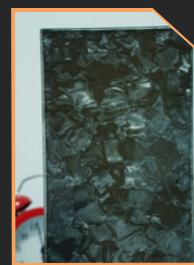

Abstract abyss

Product Code: iii-AT1

Pulled from Somewhere Deep.

Contour lines in iridescent green, yellow, and violet map a surface that does not exist in nature but feels strangely familiar. It is complex without being chaotic, the kind of pattern that draws people in before they quite understand why.

Black Quarry

Product Code: iii-AT2

Raw. Refined. Unrepeatable.

Dark fractured forms press against the glass like stone split open and frozen mid-break. The texture is dense and dramatic, suited to spaces that are not afraid of weight and presence. No two panels will ever look identical.

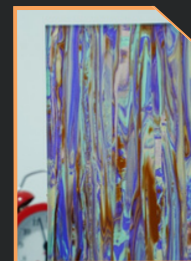

Celestial Bloom

Product Code: vi-AT3

A Garden Seen from Above.

Petals and fronds spread across the glass in soft teal and lilac, rendered with a precision that feels closer to illustration than pattern. It is detailed enough to hold attention up close and striking enough to command a room from a distance.

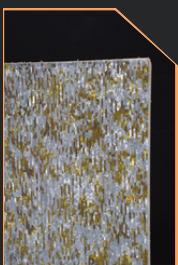

Prismatic film

Product Code: iii-AT4

Every Angle, a Different Colour.

Purple, amber, and green pour through each other in long fluid columns. The colours do not compete, they move together, making the glass feel less like a surface and more like something that is always in motion.

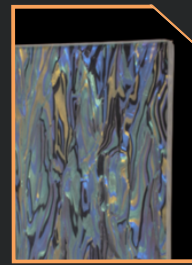

Auric strata

Product Code: iii-AT5

Layers That Light Passes Through.

Gold and silver tones run through the glass in irregular vertical streaks, like sediment formed over time. No two panels read exactly the same. It is the kind of surface that makes a large wall feel alive rather than flat.

Wavy northern lights

Product Code: iii-AT6

Colours That Cannot Stay Still.

Blue, green, and violet ripple across the glass in long fluid strokes, mimicking the movement of light across a night sky. It fills a room with colour that feels natural rather than applied, shifting subtly as the light around it changes.

Curated Moodboards

Every space has a personality waiting to be expressed. These moodboards have been put together with that in mind, drawing from across our collections to give you a starting point that feels considered, not generic. Browse through, find what speaks to you, and take it forward into your space.

Golden Hour

Warm stone, aged wood, and a quiet gleam of gold. This mood board is built around materials that feel like they have been touched by afternoon light and left to settle. Nothing competes. Everything belongs.

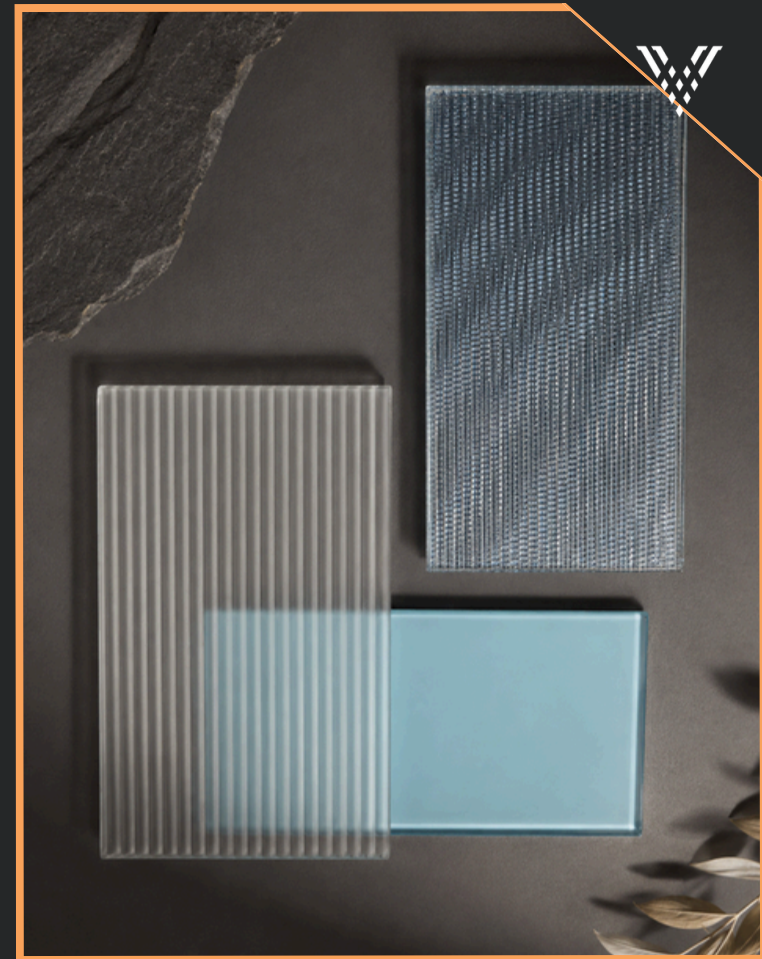

Who This Is For : For those who are drawn to warmth over coolness, and texture over shine. If your idea of a beautiful room involves natural materials, unhurried tones, and a touch of gold that feels earned rather than added, Golden Hour was put together with you in mind. It pairs beautifully with our Lustrous collection, particularly with Soft Gold Weave and complementing burnt ochre colour, where the metallic notes in the glass feel like a natural continuation of everything else in the room.

The Peacock Dance

There is a moment just before the peacock spreads its feathers. A stillness. Then cobalt, violet, and gold unfurl together, each colour catching the light at a different angle. The deep blue holds the calm. The violet carries the drama. The woven chevron moves the way feathers do, ancient, precise, and impossible to look away from.

Who This Is For : For those who want a room that feels alive, not loud, not restless, but genuinely in motion. If you have ever watched a peacock in full display and felt something shift, you already know what this room should feel like. Pairs beautifully with Indigo Chevron and Blueprint Ink from our Traditional and Lacquer collections.

Still Water

The colour of shallow ocean just before it meets the sand. Pale blue, cool reed, and the clean vertical lines of a ribbed shore. This moodboard sits at the edge of two things, the stillness of a winter morning and the openness of a beach that has not filled up yet. The woven texture holds depth the way water does, dark in some light, silver in another. The ribbed glass catches and scatters, the way light does when it breaks across a gentle wave.

Who This Is For : For those who find calm in cool tones and clean lines. If your idea of a perfect room is one that breathes, one that feels like there is always a little air moving through it, this palette was put together for you. It suits bedrooms that are meant to slow the day down, and wardrobes that deserve more than plain panels. Pairs naturally with Beach Blue and Frost colour from our Minimalist & Lacquers collection for spaces that want that last bit of quiet precision.

Sun Baked

The colour of earth after a long afternoon. Amber that has been sitting in the sun. Fine lines that run like grain through dried clay or the bark of an old tree. This moodboard does not try to be luxurious. It simply is, in the way that natural things are, without effort and without apology. The marble underneath holds everything together with its cool stillness, letting the warmth of the glass do the talking.

Who This Is For : For those who are drawn to materials that feel like they came from somewhere real. If your spaces tend toward the organic, the earthy, and the unhurried, this palette will sit easily alongside timber, raw stone, and linen. It pairs naturally with Copper Waves and Fret lines from our Lustrous & Minimal collection.

Wabi

Borrowed from the Japanese idea that beauty lives in the imperfect and the unhurried, this moodboard asks very little of the room around it. Cream stone, dried branch, the gold of a pattern that has been passed down rather than designed. Nothing here is trying to impress. It simply settles, the way a well-chosen room does after years of living in it. The diamond weave carries age without looking old. The embossed tile holds light without chasing it.

Who This Is For : For those who find more comfort in restraint than in abundance. If you have ever walked into a room and felt immediately at ease without knowing exactly why, this is that feeling made into glass. It pairs with Diamond Cinnamon and Sandstone Loom from our Traditional and Lustrous collections, patterns that carry the same quiet confidence this moodboard is built on.

First Rain

The moment after the rain begins, before the smell of earth rises, when everything turns silver and still. Wet stone holds the cold. A bare branch catches a single drop and bends. The glass in this moodboard was chosen for exactly that feeling. Silver mesh that reads like rain caught mid-fall. Rippled clear glass that moves the way water does on a window. A quiet slate blue that is the colour of the sky ten minutes before a downpour. Together they make a room that feels like it is always just after a shower, cool, clean, and completely at rest.

Who This Is For : For those who find something deeply comforting in grey skies and the sound of rain on glass. If your spaces tend toward the cool and the considered, and you would rather a room feel calm than warm, this palette was made with your sensibility in mind. It pairs with Silver fabric and Cloud blue from our Lustrous and Lacquer collections.

Soft Bloom

The colour of a garden before it fully wakes. Sage that has not yet deepened into green. A surface that holds horizontal lines the way still water holds reflections. And then, quietly, an iridescent piece that shifts between white and blue and violet depending on how you stand, the way a petal does in early light. Dried flowers that have kept their shape long after the season passed. A sheer fabric that does not quite have a colour. This moodboard is about the kind of beauty that does not announce itself. It simply stays.

Who This Is For : For those who want a room that feels tender without being delicate. If you are drawn to tones that sit between green and grey, and surfaces that seem to change with the time of day, this palette will feel like it was chosen specifically for you. It pairs beautifully with Wavy northern lights and Pista Ink from our artistic and lacquer collection.
